Dr. Paul Pu,
The Erindale Academy.

Dear Paul and members of The Erindale Academy community,

Re: Support for the Erindale Youth AI Innovation Incubator

Please accept my warm congratulations on the launch of the Erindale Youth AI Innovation Incubator and the celebration of the 150th anniversary of Taylor–Froebel House.

I am pleased to express my support for this initiative, which seeks to help young people explore artificial intelligence, develop their creativity, and apply their learning to real-world challenges. Bringing together AI literacy, hands-on learning, and collaboration offers a valuable opportunity to nurture thoughtful and responsible young innovators, committed to serving the public good.

Your theme, “Connecting History, Inspiring the Future,” captures the spirit of this occasion: honouring an educational heritage while opening new possibilities for the next generation.

I extend my best wishes to the students, educators, and community partners involved. May the incubator inspire meaningful projects, lasting partnerships, and a strong commitment to using technology for the benefit of society.

Yours sincerely,
